To: City Council via Planning Commission
From: Community Development Department
Subject: Amendments to Title 21 of the Land Development Code related to Accessory Apartments (aka Internal Accessory Dwelling Units (IADUs)) CA04182024-0006755

Public Hearing Notice: This item has been noticed on public websites, sent to affected entities and posted in three public locations at least 10 days prior to the Public Hearing.

Request

On behalf of Sandy City, the Community Development Department is proposing to amend Title 21, Land Development Code, Chapter 11, Special Use Standards, Section 1, Accessory Apartments, Extended Living Areas and Guesthouses. The code amendments would ensure the standards for Internal Accessory Dwelling Units are consistent with Utah Code. The specific amendments to the Land Development Code are included as Exhibit "A" (red-lined version) and Exhibit "B" (clean version).

Background

During the 2023 Utah Legislative Session, Senate Bill 174 was passed, which enacted language that modify standards for internal accessory dwelling units (IADUs) (see UCA 10-9a-530), which Sandy City Code defines as "accessory apartments". The new legislation restricts cities from requiring internal connectivity between the primary dwelling and the internal accessory dwelling unit. Cities are also restricted from requiring an additional parking space if four off-street parking spaces are already required. The proposed code amendment will bring the City's land use code under Sec. 21-11-1 into compliance with these state law provisions.

Case History
Case Number	Case Summary
Ord. No. 21-28 CAO08052021-0006126	The code amendment implements HB082, which was adopted during the 2021 Utah Legislative Session regarding internal accessory dwelling units (I-ADUs), known in Sandy as "accessory apartments."

Public Notice

The city issued notice of the public hearing for the proposed code amendments on public websites, mailed notice to affected entities and posted in three public locations at least 10 days prior to the Planning Commission public hearing in accordance with the Land Development Code Sec. 21-36-1 and the Utah State Code § 10-9a-205.

Analysis

Currently, the Land Development Code requires all internal accessory dwelling units to have internal connectivity between the primary dwelling and the accessory dwelling unit. The Code also requires one off-street parking space for the internal accessory dwelling unit, in addition to the four off-street parking spaces that are required for all single-family homes. Neither provision is consistent with Utah State Code.

The proposed code amendment will bring the City's Land Development Code into compliance with state law by removing the requirements for internal connectivity between the primary dwelling and the internal accessory dwelling unit, and by requiring compliance with existing off-street parking requirements for single-family homes (see section 21-20-05). That means that an attached or detached two car garage with space for at least two other parking spaces in the driveway must be provided to qualify for an accessory living area. The specific language of the proposed code amendment is shown under Exhibit "A" (red-lined version) and Exhibit "B" (clean version).

Non-Conforming Uses

This code amendment would not create any non-conforming situations.
