Staff Report Memorandum February 19, 2026

To: Planning Commission
From: Community Development Department
Subject: Fortner Rezone
8564 S. 1000 E.
[Community #6, High Point]

REZ11202025-007084
R-1-10 to RM(12)
0.65 Acres

Public Hearing Notice: This item has been noticed to property owners within 500 feet of the subject area, on public websites, at public locations, and a sign posted on site.

Request

Ben Child, with Stanson Development (applicant), is representing the current property owner, Jolene Fortner. They are requesting a change of zone district on property located at 8564 S. 1000 E. The request is to rezone the property from the R-1-10 (Single-Family Residential District) Zone to the RM(12) (Multi-Family Residential District) Zone (see Exhibit "A" for Application Materials).

Background

The subject property, two parcels both addressed as 8564 S. 1000 E., is approximately 0.65 acres in area. The property includes one existing house. The property was annexed into the City in 2025 and zoned as R-1-10 Zone at that time. According to the concept plan, the applicant proposes to build six housing units on the property.

The application is requesting a zone change to the RM(12) Zone (Multi-Family Residential District). The zoning designation (and existing land use) of the surrounding properties are as follows (see also Exhibit "C" for an area zoning map):

North: A-1 as unincorporated property (tri-plex)
East: R-2-10 & RM(12) (multi-family residential)
South: R-2-10 (multi-family residential, duplexes)
West: R-2-10 & SD(R-1-7) (single-family and multi-family residential)

- Policy: Promote development types that use water efficiently
Land Use
- Objective: Sandy's Future Land Use Map includes opportunities for the development of diverse housing types
- Objective: Ensure that all planning applications are consistent with the General Plan and Future Land Use Map
Annexation
- Goal: Annexation of unincorporated areas into Sandy will comply with the provisions of State Statue and the City's Annexation Policy Plan

Conclusions

- The requested zone district is consistent with General Plan goals, objectives, policies, and the Future Land Use Map.
- A zone change is a legislative item that requires the Planning Commission to make a recommendation to the City Council, after having held a public hearing, with the City Council making the final decision.
- If this rezone application is approved, additional permits and applications, such as a subdivision, modified site plan, and building permits, would need to be submitted and approved.

Subject: Formal Request for Zone Change – 8564 South 1000 East, Sandy, Utah
Tax ID Numbers: 22-32-377-017 and 22-32-377-018

Dear Planning Division,

I am writing to formally request a zone change for the property located at 8564 South 1000 East, Sandy, Utah. The property is currently zoned R-1-10 and R-2-10, and I respectfully request that the zoning be changed to RM(12) – Residential Multi-Family. This change will allow for a higher-density residential development consistent with Sandy City's General Plan goals for infill development and housing diversity.

The site's location along 1000 East provides excellent access to transportation, public services, and nearby amenities, making it appropriate for modestly increased residential density. The proposed RM(12) zoning promotes efficient land use, attainable housing options, and compatibility with nearby residential and mixed-use areas, supporting the City's long-term vision for balanced growth.

Please let me know if a pre-application meeting or additional documentation is required to move this request forward.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Benjamin Child

The site plan shows a property with a building footprint and a parking area. The building footprint is located in the upper right portion of the plan, with a total width of 20' and a depth of 20'. The parking area is located to the left of the building, with a total width of 20' and a depth of 20'. The plan includes various boundary lines, including the property boundary, setback boundary, and building footprint boundary. Dimensions are provided for setbacks, property boundaries, and building footprints. Key features include a building footprint with multiple rooms, a parking area with 20 spaces, and a driveway. The plan is oriented with North at the top.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Concern Regarding Proposed Rezoning Near 8564 S 1000 E
Date: Wednesday, January 21, 2026 1:12:31 PM

Mr. Warner,

I am writing regarding the proposed rezoning application for the property located at approximately 8564 S 1000 E, which I understand is scheduled to be discussed at the Planning Commission meeting tonight, January 21, 2026.

While the property is not directly across the street from my home, I live nearby at 936 E 8560 S, with a single-family development currently underway on the field between my residence and the parcel in question. Even with that separation, the proposed rezoning would still have a direct and meaningful impact on our neighborhood.

I want to be clear and straightforward: additional high-density or multi-family housing beyond what already exists is not appropriate for this area, and I strongly oppose rezoning this property to a higher-density designation.

I recognize that there are currently two duplexes adjacent to the property. However, those structures represent a limited and contained use that has coexisted with surrounding single-family homes for years. Expanding higher-density zoning at this location would go well beyond that precedent and would fundamentally change the character of the area.

This neighborhood has long been defined by low-density residential development. Introducing additional multi-family housing would bring increased traffic, parking pressure, noise, and additional strain on local infrastructure—impacts that are practical and foreseeable, not speculative. These impacts would affect not only existing residents, but also the single-family neighborhood now being developed nearby.

Just as importantly, many homeowners in this area made long-term decisions based on existing zoning and reasonable expectations about neighborhood stability. A zoning change of this nature undermines those expectations and sets a concerning precedent for incremental densification that is incompatible with the surrounding residential pattern.

I understand the broader housing challenges facing the city, but this location is not well suited for higher-density residential development, particularly given its proximity to established and planned single-family neighborhoods.

Please include this email as part of the public record for tonight's Planning Commission meeting. I respectfully ask the Planning Commission to deny or, at a minimum, table this rezoning request to allow for further consideration of neighborhood compatibility and resident impact.

Thank you for your time and attention.

Date: Wednesday, January 21, 2026 2:08:24 PM

Hi Jake,

We are writing this email because we are concerned about the rezone of the property bordering on the east of our property. Our property is zoned as R1-7. When we were applying for the rezone of our property, we were told that a zone for multi-family dwellings would not be approved in this neighborhood. We were told that we would not be allowed to zone for anything but a single-family residence zone. Why are rules being changed for different people? In addition, these multi-family units will be small, and they won't match the value of the houses that border these units. The proposed multi-family dwelling buildings won't fit the neighborhood, and we believe they will reduce the value of the neighboring homes presently existing and future planned homes for the neighborhood. The proposed buildings in the announcement are small and overly crowded on the lots. They look like a row of garage doors and small entry doors with very little living space.

We are already dealing with drug problems and illegal activities in the immediate area because of the type of housing that has been allowed to be built here, and we believe these types of living structures have the potential to attract more of the same people that will participate in these types of activities and reduce the security of our neighborhood.

Thanks for taking our concerns into consideration,

Ronald & Lenna Larson

Dear Jake,

We are the Owen and Miriam Tucker Family living in the area being reviewed for rezoning for Multi-Family Units. We are very much opposed to the changing of the Zone from Single Family Homes to Multi-Family Units!

We feel that this change in Zoning would greatly change the appeal and the look and feel of our neighborhood. We are a Single Family area and would like to keep it that way. This would greatly change the Density of our area.

We have lived in this area for over 40 years and have enjoyed Single Family Homes to raise our Family. We feel that this would set a precedence for future Developers and would extremely change the look and feel of a quiet Single Family Neighborhood. We are unable to attend the Zoom Meeting tonight but wanted to have our voice heard regarding this issue.

Thank you,

Owen and Miriam Tucker
