About the Sandy City Police Department: The Sandy City Police Department includes: 112 sworn police officers, 10 animal services personnel, and 30 support staff members.

The department is built on the core values of "Integrity First, Service before Self, and Excellence in All We Do". Our mission is to provide the highest quality of police services to citizens and visitors to Sandy City through progressive and innovative programs implemented by highly trained and motivated men and women within the department. We value a community-based approach to law enforcement, which is enhanced by partnerships we have with the citizens of Sandy who share our goals and are willing to assist us in maintaining a safe city.

About Sandy City: Sandy City is the sixth largest city in Utah, home to over 95,000 residents, and hosts tens of thousands of visitors every year who come for business, pleasure, and more. Despite all those people, the community has a long standing reputation of taking care of residents and visitors alike.

Aside from pastoral neighborhoods and residential areas, plus shopping, dining, cultural and entertainment opportunities, Sandy is one of the safest U.S. cities in which to live, ranking among the safest cities in the nation for the eleventh straight year. Furthermore, there are public and private schools, charity organizations, medical services, fire, police and public safety facilities, houses of worship representing numerous faiths - all of which are some of the finest in Utah and contribute to the community's extra-ordinary quality of life.

In addition, Sandy is one of the world's first mountain cities with access to award-winning mountain terrain, nearly 7,000 acres of ski terrain, 30 mountain bike trails within 30 minutes, coupled with the distinction of having all of the best urban services and amenities. The I-15 corridor and TRAX light rail line on the west side of the City provide access to downtown Salt Lake City (approximately 15 miles to the north) and the opportunity to be a commercial center for the south end of the valley.

Nowhere else in the world is there better proximity to such a variety of mountain sports and outdoor recreation, as well as metropolitan conveniences and amenities.
