*The general plan amendment and rezone were combined into one joint presentation, discussion and public hearing.

Mike Wilcox, Sandy City Planning Director, introduced this item to the Planning Commission.

Spencer Moffett, 101 S 200 E, Salt Lake City, presented this item to the Planning Commission.

Steven Wrigley said the current density is less than what's currently allowed and asked if there's areas for kids to play.

Spencer Moffett said they're compliant with the 40% open space that's required in the zone and there's a pickle ball court, a tot lot and a dog park.

Steven Wrigley asked if he knows what the pricing of the units will be.

Spencer Moffett said that they don't have the construction costs so he doesn't have a number yet.

Steven Wrigley asked if these units would be considered moderate income.

Spencer Moffett said that based on what they're paying the school district these units will not be considered affordable or moderate income.

Jake Warner, Sandy City Long Range Planning Manager, further presented this item to the Planning Commission.

Cameron Duncan said this is a great use of the transition zone.

Jake Warner said the medium density designation supports the request.

LaNiece Davenport opened this item for public comment.

Zoe Millard, 826 E Gatewood Drive, asked if these units will be owner occupied.

LaNiece Davenport closed this item to public comment.

Jake Warner said the applicant is intending to subdivide this property into individual townhome sellable units.

A motion was made by Cameron Duncan, seconded by David Hart, that the Planning Commission forward a positive recommendation, recommending that the City Council approve the application for a future land use designation of the

5. CA02132026 Amendments to Title 21 of the Land Development Code related to Building Height
-0007114

Attachments: Staff Report
Exhibit A - Applicant Proposal

Mike Wilcox, Sandy City Planning Director, introduced this item to the Planning Commission.

Jeff Knighton, with Knighton Architecture, presented this item to the Planning Commission.

David Hart asked what would stop someone from over excavating and then wanting to go from the natural grade that was there originally.

Jeff Knighton said if they over excavated they could potentially bury more of the basement into the home.

David Hart said if it's over excavated they'd lower the grade and would be adding additional square footage and additional height down below, so you could build a taller house by over excavating.

Jeff Knighton said that in the end the house is taller but in terms of visual impact to the neighbors they're not exceeding what would have been built.

Steven Wrigley asked how tall the current home is.

Jeff Knighton said it exceeds the height by 5 feet so it's 40 feet tall.

Melissa Anderson, Sandy City Zoning Administrator, further presented this item to the Planning Commission.

Steven Wrigley asked if the amendment is approved, will it be retroactive for this home since it's already built.

Melissa Anderson said they would need to apply for a new building permit that would be reviewed with any new code.

Steven Wrigley said this would be difficult for him to vote on because he's not sure what exactly he's voting on.

David Hart asked if the applicant could apply for a variance or a waiver versus requesting to rewrite the code.

Jennifer George asked if the applicant has other options other than spending the money to rebuild the home or rewrite the code.

Melissa Anderson said that there are administrative variances, but those requests are very small with a difference of less than a foot and only if all the code criteria for an administrative variance are met. She does not believe this case would meet the criteria.

Ron Mortimer asked if there's a third option for this applicant or if the Planning Commission has authority for a variance or change.

Mike Wilcox said the Planning Commission doesn't have authority to grant an exception for height. They have an option to apply for a variance that would go to the Board of Adjustment however there are statutes that have been established by the state that set minimum criteria. One of those criteria is that it cannot be a self-imposed hardship.

LaNiece Davenport opened this item to public comment.

Pratt Diamond, 2627 E Canyon Edge Drive, was the developer who built the home and gave a history on what happened and said he would hope there's some type of variance and code update.

David Hunt, 3351 E 9980 S, is the homeowner of the property and said that the code should be modernized.

Steve Van Maren, Draper resident, is confused about the grade and uninhabitable space.

LaNiece Davenport closed this item to public comment.

David Hart doesn't feel the code amendment should be approved for one person.

A motion was made by Cameron Duncan, seconded by David Hart, that the Planning Commission forward a negative recommendation to the City Council to amend Title 21, of the Sandy Municipal Code, relating to Building Height, based on the four findings detailed in the staff report. The motion carried by the following roll call vote:

- Cameron Duncan

6. SPX0701202 Silver Ridge Flats Special Exception Review
5-006991 886 E. 7800 S.
Community #6, High Point

Mike Wilcox, Sandy City Planning Director, introduced this item to the Planning Commission.

Brandon Preece, 12401 S 400 E, Draper, presented this item to the Planning Commission.

Steven Wrigley asked if these units have driveways.

Brandon Priest said no.

Cache Hancey, Sandy City Senior Planner, further presented this item to the Planning Commission. He also clarified the number of parking spots.

LaNiece Davenport opened this item for public comment.

Susan Hardman, 870 E 7800 S, said that nine units on less than an acre lot is not safe and shared other concerns relating to traffic safety and rodents.

Peter Warnick, 865 E 7800 S, shared concerns over speed and additional traffic.

LaNiece Davenport closed this item for public comment.

Steven Wrigley asked what the maximum is allowed per city code and what's the required number of parking stalls.

Cache Hancey, said nine units are allowed.

Mike Wilcox said that each home requires two car off street parking per unit plus visitor parking. The way that's administered is for the first five units there's a requirement for five off street parking in addition to the two off street and then for every additional home, it's 0.25 stalls per unit for additional guest parking when it's configured in a parking lot configuration.

Steven Wrigley asked if this project meets the parking requirements.

Mike Wilcox said yes.

Steven Wrigley asked if a traffic study is required on a project this small.

Ivan Hooper, Sandy City Transportation Engineer, said a traffic study is not required with such a small project. With nine units they would generate approximately 70 trips a day and the overall traffic impact is very minor.
